

Red Gables Q&A

March 2025

Welcome

Red Gables a five-bedroom detached property in East Rainton, Sunderland has been purchased by Sunderland City Council on behalf of Together for Children (TfC).

After a substantial planning application process we now have permission for Red Gables to become a new residential home for overnight short breaks and day-care for children with special educational needs and disabilities (SEND).

Although planning permission with conditions approved has now been granted, there have been several bumps along the way which has resulted in delays in work starting on site and in-turn on the estimated opening date. To help explain our plans for Red Gables we have put together this Q&A. As you can imagine, for a project of this scale, there are some questions and timeframes we are not able to fully answer or provide, but we will keep you updated as the project progresses.

The property is already homely, welcoming, and well maintained, but we will need to carry out some refurbishment work to ensure it best meets the needs of the children and families in Sunderland.

We will work alongside families as well as our experienced teams at TfC to make sure the home works for families and helps children and young people have fun, socialise and gain independence in a supportive and comfortable environment.

Questions and answers

Where is the property?

Red Gables is a five-bedroom detached property in East Rainton, Sunderland. The property already has a great layout, is spacious, welcoming and well looked after, but we will need to carry out some refurbishment work to ensure it best meets the needs of the children and families in Sunderland who will use it. The home is also easy to access and there is on-site parking provisions and plans to extend parking facilities particularly following feedback from our public consultation with neighbours.

Why was the property chosen?

Red Gables was chosen because the property already has a lot of the qualities we were looking for in a new provision such as a good layout and substantial outdoor space. It also has the character and homeliness we wanted. The existing wide corridors and space to add a lift and additional rooms means families and the team can access all parts of the building. The layout of the property has meant that less structural work would be needed compared to others we properties we considered during the search.

How much is the project expected to cost?

The purchase of the home, renovation work, legal costs and adding facilities is expected to cost around £1.7million. The property itself cost £772,000 to purchase.

Why was the planning application decision delayed?

Planning application was initially submitted in December 2023 for Red Gables. Unfortunately in February 2024 we were advised of objections from local residents which were primarily focused on concern regarding noise from the building, parking facilities and additional cars on the road. The plans were then due to be discussed at committee after the UK-wide general election in early July.

However, in June, the planning application for Red Gables had to be withdrawn again due to a legal land-related issue which was unfortunately out of our control. The application was resubmitted and presented at a planning committee in October which was specially held to minimise further delay. It was at this meeting we were given approval for our plans for Red Gables to go ahead.

During both delays we called upon the families we work with to share their positive comments and personal stories in support of our planning application and we were overwhelmed with the support received. These backings submitted through the planning portal were hugely influential in getting this application approved and showing planners why the home is so important to families in Sunderland. Thank you to everyone who supported this activity - it's very much appreciated.

How will families be kept informed of developments?

We will be producing a regular newsletter that will be circulated to families we currently support to keep them informed of developments. We will also be taking progress photos and filming on site at regular intervals so you can see the progress through our newsletter and our social media. Families will be the first invited to visit the home when appropriate.

In addition we worked with volunteers who joined our Red Gables parent / carer forum event in January 2025 where members were invited to discuss various parts of the project with our team. This was to ensure the space is custom designed to best meet the needs of children and young people in Sunderland and their families. The topics covered included outdoor space, IT and internal design. The team also visited our SEND youth group STARS for additional feedback on what they think young people would like to see at the home which has been incorporated into tender material.
