

Relationships Matter

Information for practitioners

Parental conflict, including where parents are together or separated, which is frequent, intense and poorly resolved, puts children's mental health and long-term life chances at risk.

The Reducing Parental Conflict Programme – known as 'Relationships Matter' in the North East Region – provides four new pathways of intervention proven to reduce parental conflict and improve outcomes for children.

This brief guide sets out the referral process and details of the available programmes for practitioners working directly with families.

Parents must have at least one child aged 0 – 18 years (child with a disability, aged 0 – 25 years) or be expecting a first child. A minimum of one parent must reside within a Local Authority boundary within the North East Contract Package Area (CPA), including:

The Referral Stage Questionnaire

The Referral Stage Questionnaire (RSQ) is a tool designed to assess the level of conflict between parents and determine the level of support required by the family.

There are four types of bespoke questionnaire, each taking about 15-20 minutes to complete:

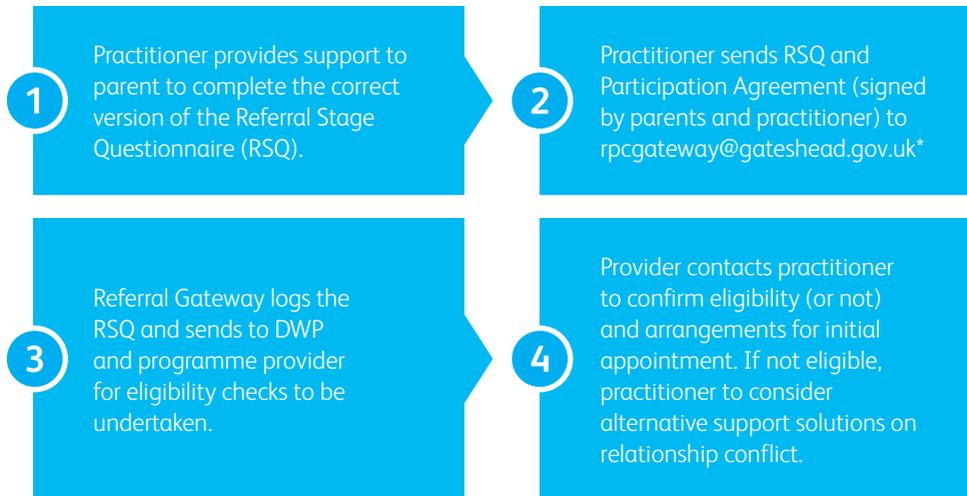

- Parents who have children
- Separated parents with children
- Parents expecting first child
- Separated couple expecting first child

About the RSQ

- The RSQ has been developed through research, every question is there for a reason
- Good RSQs start a process of reflection on relationship conflict – it is not simply ‘a form’
- The RSQ score is linked to thresholds for a ‘High’ or ‘Moderate’ intervention
- Some RSQs will score the ‘Low’ level but must still be shared with the Gateway

Referral process

*Practitioners from the Sunderland Early Help Service must send their completed RSQs to EHAAT@togetherforchildren.org.uk

Your role as a frontline practitioner:

- Develop your awareness of the questions and format – try it for yourself;
- Be clear, confident and positive about WHY parents are completing the RSQ; it helps to understand their unique situation; it will help them get help that is most likely to meet their needs;
- Encourage independent completion wherever possible, supporting only when needed;
- Try not to worry that the questions might be taken the wrong way – most parents welcome being able to answer/discuss these issues as it gives hope that they will receive some help with the problems raised.

Role of the Referral Gateway

The Referral Gateway Team are based in Gateshead Council, Civic Centre, NE8 1HH and can be contacted (Mon-Fri, 9am-5pm) on 0191 433 3355 or at rpcgateway@gateshead.gov.uk.

The role of the Referral Gateway is to:

- Provide advice and support to frontline practitioners
- Receive and record the Referral Stage Questionnaire
- Work with providers and practitioners to support attendance on programmes
- Analyse referral trends and proactively address any barriers to accessing programmes
